The first item was the approval of the agenda. With no additions or changes, Vida Ditter moved to approve the agenda. Seconded. Motion passed.

Approval of minutes of last month's meeting. With no changes, the minutes were approved at documented.

Lisa Goodman gave the monthly report on the City of Minneapolis.

There will be no Lunch with Lisa in August, returning September 26th.

Early voting is in full swing at either the Early Voting Center or Hennepin County center. Election judges are still needed to meet requirements for partisan parity.

Lisa received the note from the Neighborhood Association with regards to for the 2040 plan. City staff are currently reviewing all comments. Lisa stated that she would work towards implementing the consensus of the community when it comes to the 2040 Plan. There is no date yet for a next draft of the 2040 Plan, but it could be as soon as late September.

Steve Minn of Lupe Development and David Miller of Urbanworks gave an update on the 2800 Wayzata Blvd project.

Over 65 people attended the charrette to gather community feedback. In summary, the project is expected to renovate the existing office, resulting in approximately 100,000 square feet of leasable space, as well as two new construction projects, one consisting of approximately 100 Units of Senior Living and the other an Affordable Housing project of approximately 150 units for families. This area is currently zoned OR2, high density.

At the charrette, major discussion themes included sensitivity to natural features, improving Wayzata Blvd, improving the connectedness to the neighborhood, and being mindful of the proximity to the school. Traffic and transportation, pedestrian safety, and improving bike shelters. There was discussion around the architecture and the visual impact to the neighborhood and requests to consider the style and variety of the existing neighborhood, including gardens and water gardens and the impacts to the rest of the neighborhood environment.

After a visual and verbal review of several proposed plans, a discussion around the number of parking spaces that will be required for different uses of the space and whether a 500+ stall parking ramp was acceptable ensued. After additional discussion, David stated that more information on the projects including the results of the charrette, proposed designs, and mechanisms for comment can be found at www.2800wayzata.com

Dennis Fazio gave a brief summary from the last two events.

Almost $4000 in income from the Garden Tour and the Ice Cream Social. Ticket sales were down a bit, however there were more sponsors for the Garden Tour.

Patty Wycoff gave the Neighborhood Coordinator Report.

More than 500 people attended the Ice Cream Social. The Garden Tour had fewer ticket sales due to some competing events from other neighborhoods. Patty received several requests to extend the event time as well as some positive comments on the inclusion of outdoor spaces were received.

The school has been rented for the September and October Board Meeting. Patty Wycoff and Jessica Wiley will work together to create a Neighborhood Coordinator manual to consolidate all of the functions that the role handles.

The Sip and Stroll is the next event, coming up the 2nd Thursday in October.

Webmaster Jeremy Staffeld provided a Webmaster Report.

Busy month for www.bmna.org, logging 4890 visits for the month and 20 questions on the events. The position descriptions for which the BMNA is hiring can be found on the website. A survey on how people are using the site and how it can be improved will be forthcoming.

President Kevin Thompson relayed that Patty Wycoff submitted her resignation as Neighborhood Coordinator.

The Executive Committee met to discuss and proposed splitting the position into two roles to allow for more focus on specific areas by newly engaged individuals. After a review of each role description, discussion ensued around the proposed changes to the role and specifically to changes to payment for these services.

President Kevin Thompson recognized and thanked, on behalf of the Board, Karen Frederickson, who drafted the BMNA response to the 2040 plan, which was reviewed, voted on electronically, and has now been submitted to the City of Minneapolis.

President Kevin Thompson updated the group on the MPRB North Service Area Master Plan. After nearly a dozen CAC meetings, the initial draft plans have been completed and sent forward to the next round where there will be a meeting for the public to comment. One item included was a request to move the entrance to Bryn Mawr Meadows from Laurel Ave to just off Cedar Lake road, to reduce traffic on Laurel.

Lynda Shaheen provided an update from the Schools Committee.

Anwatin is having a fund raiser October 5th at Utepils from 5:00 to 8:00. More information will be forthcoming.

Bryn Mawr Elementary has a new principal as noted in the Bugle.

Included in the minutes is a reminder from Jessica Wiley from the Community Projects Committee that the unveiling of the mural occurs August 15th at the Hero Community Center.

Vida Ditter provided updates on ROC/Basset Creek Valley from all the properties that Wellington purchased.

Wellington is asking for more involvement and feedback from the community as they progress. They are working with the Park Board as to who should purchase the Canadian Pacific Right of Way.

The EXL property is still seeking a tenant before progressing further on the development of the building.

Mark Laverty reminded the Board that the community can have an impact on the 2800 Wayzata project as the builders will be requesting community support when applying for variances, for instance.

With no further discussion or new business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:05 p.m.

NEXT BOARD MEETING: Wednesday, September 12, 2018 Bryn Mawr School, Cafeteria

From the Editor

while back, our block leaders let us know that because they and several other people were going to be out of town, the annual National Night Out (NNO) block party for 500-700 Cedar Lake Road South would be delayed until September 9. So responding to an open invitation on NextDoor Bryn Mawr, when August 7th came around, I poured my "beverage of choice" in a sturdy glass and made my way to the gathering on Mount View.

As it turned out, this year NNO took place on my first night of summer vacation. I was craving some low-key socializing and this party delivered. In addition to meeting new people, I got to catch up with the young family that lives across the street. I met the new baby on the block and heard about their search for a school for their oldest who will be in kindergarten next fall. We chatted about their growing family's desire for more space and our urge to downsize. We even briefly discussed swapping homes.

I met the people who did an HGTV-worthy update of an 90-year-old bungalow. We joined in a spirited discussion about the Minneapolis 2040 Plan and brainstormed ways to create affordable housing. We all speculated about what might be happening on the recently sold lot next door to our home. Sadly no one has had any direct contact with the new owners. So we all wait to see what materializes.

The police stayed for the whole party. They talked to the kids and passed out police badge stickers. Pictures shared with me by other block parties show that this was a common experience. Nice to see that MPD is prioritizing building trust.

I am a super fan of National Night Out. I love that no one has to clean up their house to enjoy the evening. Gathering in the streets provides a level playing field and is good practice for friendly greetings when passing on the sidewalk and street every day.

More than ever, we need to know our neighbors and look out for one another. Social media can be a way to spread the news of ones' latest and greatest adventures quickly to many. But it is a poor substitute for face-to-face conversation.

Our rescheduled event is next Friday. As always, we'll gather at the end of our alley in the cul-de-sac on Thomas. I am looking forward to checking in with my block-mates and hope that people who live on Mount View and other adjacent blocks will join in as well.

Gabe Engel (above center) was a student election judge during the state primaries on August 14th. He had to attend a 3-hour training session before the primary. He

Look for him at Bryn Mawr Elementary on November 4th.

The current design of the Upton Garden on the corner of Cedar Lake Road and Upton Avenue is 11 years old this summer! Thanks to the continued commitment of our volunteers the garden still looks beautiful. While many volunteers help out during our annual spring and fall clean ups, one Area 6 volunteer stands out - JT Thomas. JT has mowed the lawn at the Upton Garden every summer for the past 11 years! Thanks also to Rod Miller for being his back up. Lucas Goring, Area 2, has also has a long term volunteer commitment at the Upton Garden. Lucas has donated his lawn aeration service for the past 5 years. Thank you JT, Lucas and all the many Upton Garden volunteers.

Meet the Board

Get to know more about those who serve on the BMNA Board

Barry Schade, Area 5 Co-representative

How long have you lived in Bryn Mawr? I moved into Bryn Mawr 32 years ago, and haven't considered moving away ever since.

How long have you been on the Board/Executive Board of BMNA?

I've been on the Board a very long time. For me, it is simply part of being a member of the neighborhood.

Why did you choose to join board? Why do you stay?

If I am going to live in the neighborhood, I want to be part of what is going on. Why else would I choose to live here? To me, Bryn Mawr is more than a place. a community of people. While I like and enjoy the neighborhood location, the kinds of homes, the surrounding parks and the abundance of gardens, the neighborhood's greatest amenities are the people who live here. The quality of life in the neighborhood may be supported by our physical surroundings, but the real value is in the people who choose to live here. People in Bryn Mawr pay attention to one another, and I want to be part of that. By being on the Board, I intend to help build and maintain a community of people who can enjoy living in Bryn Mawr.

Which committees to serve on?

In recent years, I have been involved in a number of activities related to the Southwest LRT project. It has been my intent to be a conduit of information for the neighborhood and to represent the interests of the Bryn Mawr community in this transportation project.

Something inspirational to encourage others to participate? Something we accomplished as a board that you are most proud of?

Each individual finds their own way to be an active participant in the Bryn Mawr community. If they don't, they miss out on the real benefit of being part of Bryn Mawr. Some people simply appear on the sidewalks and acknowledge other community members. Some people are gardeners and share their plants with neighbors. Others get involved in specific projects that help the vitality of the community. Whatever people do, it is important to show up in some way and be part of the neighborhood. If they are choosing to live here, being part of the life of the community is for their own benefit.

Stacia Goodman Mosaic in Bryn Mawr

ooking for a great place to take a selfie in our neighborhood? Bryn Mawr now has an original Stacia Goodman mosaic on the brick wall of the Bryn Mawr Market facing Penn.

The installation took place on August 13th, with an unveiling on August 15 at the pop up park on Penn. The colorful bird mosaic celebrates the neighborhood's diversity and funky creativity.

Last February, the BMNA Board approved a proposal for a mosaic for downtown Bryn Mawr as one of the 2018 Community Projects. The artist, Cedar-Isles-Dean neighbor Stacia Goodman, has a number of mosaic pieces installed around the Twin Cities. Stacia's vibrant mosaic art commissions appear in hospitals, airports, commercial buildings, retail, and education sites.

You can visit her website to see her work. http://www.staciagoodmanmosaics.com/ Her mosaics transform blank spaces into portals for meaningful connections. They convey beauty, provide pause, and act as wayfinding solutions.

Enjoy the art and gardens that downtown Bryn Mawr offers to all who live and drive through our beautiful neighborhood.

September 12, 2011 Nighthawks soaring in circles high in the sky, displaying their unmistakable field marks—wings longer than their bodies with a prominent white stripe underneath. "Like a cigar with wings." These birds are relatively common here but often missed because you have to look for them after sunset but before it's too dark. By day they rest horizontally on tree limbs or on the ground, camouflaged by their dead leaf coloration. They eat insects, so look when flying insects are common.

September 15, 2003 102, 329 hawks counted flying south past "Hawk Ridge" in Duluth. Only about one-fifth of Minnesota's hawk species over-winter here. Red-tails are common all winter in the southern half of the state.

Where'd You Go Bernadette By Maria Semple

7here'd You Go Bernadette is a screwball comedy in the true sense of the phrase. Author Maria Semple is a television writer who worked on sitcoms Mad About You and Arrested Development. Bernadette relies on the same combination of oddball characters in loving relationships, fast talking their way through a world on the edge of chaos. Her writing is clever, funny, and poignant. "This is why you must love life: one day you're offering up your social security number to the Russian Mafia; two weeks later you're using the word calve as a verb."

The relationship between Bernadette and her 15 year old daughter Bee is especially appealing. They appreciate each other, with the adoring mother quipping "Do you know how absolutely exotic it is that you haven't been corrupted by fashion and culture?"

We enjoyed how original the characters were and how Semple put us into their mindsets so we could understand their actions, even though they appeared to be 'crazy!' They went from stereotyped to complex and eventually sympathetic. Each character got the chance to turn and reveal themselves.

We were empathetic to Bernadette's aversion to the competitive, rat-race of our modern way of life. The urge to disappear has a universal ring to it.

Semple uses a variety of formats to tell the story- emails, letters, bills from the hospital, FBI reports. Through parody and exaggeration she helps us get into the life of Microsoft, the over- the-top socially conscious private school life, and the competitive world of art and architecture, with the ending played out in the bone chilling cold of Antarctica.

And, of course, the movie comes out in 2019.
